

Answers

1. Why Science, nature, and lancet have high impact factor?

Because nowadays Science, nature, and lancet are very important for everyone to research everything that unknown .

2. How do you identify predatory journal?

-The journal asks for a submission rather than publication fee

-The journal promises a very fast publication process.

-The journal defines no clear publication date.

-The journal claims or seems to be rather new.

-The journal publishes papers that are far outside

3. Why researcher need freedom, but not independent?

- Researcher need freedom because they need to concentrate to research or create something without disturbing.

-They cannot be independent because when they are independent they will be far away from rule, law regulation.